

Understanding Colour Workshop

with Deborah Marks

2 Day Workshop

29 & 30 March 2025

Workshop time: 9:30am – 4:30pm

$240 BDAS members $290 non-members

Come and enjoy a weekend workshop exploring colour relationships and our visual reactions to them. Through a systematic study of colour relationships, you will see the reactions different colours have when placed next to each other, as well as feeling colour relatedness.

Together you will explore the dimensions of colour - hue, value, intensity and temperature.

This is a structured workshop where students are guided through in-depth colour mixing exercises including primary, secondary and tertiary colours, painted within a grid pattern.

Students then create their own design based on principles of design and explore harmonies and contrasts of their chosen colour scheme.

This workshop gives you the opportunity to focus, structure and make sense of this broad subject.

The workshop is suitable for beginners and those who would like to understand colour and its relationships more fully.
