

Travel sketching in watercolour

with Tanya Baily

5 & 6 April - 9.30 - 4.30pm

$250 BDAS Members $300 Non Members

This is a fun and fast workshop giving you the tools and confidence to record your travel memories with watercolour. Learn to capture light, mood and the essence of a subject in a minimum of time.

The workshop begins with structured exercises. Students will learn to simplify and make effective compositions. We will practice laying colour washes, colour mixing and efficient limited palettes. Students will work on developing a language of shorthand descriptions for objects and textures. We will discuss materials, sketchbook options and sketch kits. As the weekend progresses students will be choosing their own scenes with Tanya working individually with each student and at their own pace. The emphasis will be on managing time and materials and on developing one's own style. Tanya will encourage experimentation and will reference artists both past and present. Students will be working from life inside and outside the studio and in the characterful streets around BDAS.

This workshop is suitable for beginners to watercolour and for more experienced artists. Some basic drawing experience would be handy.

Tanya Baily is an award-winning artist working exclusively in watercolour, exhibiting in Sydney and internationally. She spends time working plein air and it is from working from life that she develops her ideas. Tanya's work is an ongoing exploration of the descriptive and emotive potential of the watercolour medium. She teaches watercolour painting and drawing at NAS and Artest in Sydney, as well as hosting workshops at art schools and associations around Australia.
